MESSAGE FROM CONFERENCE PRESIDENT

Dear Excellencies, Colleagues, and Honored Participants,

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the upcoming Bahrain International Public Health Conference and Exhibition, organized by the Ministry of Health and the Public Health Directorate. This landmark event reflects our shared commitment to advancing public health for healthier, more resilient communities.

Public health is fundamental—it safeguards our communities, shapes policy, and promotes well-being. As we face escalating challenges—from non-communicable diseases and mental health issues to pandemics and environmental pressures—coming together is more critical than ever.

This conference aims to foster the advancement of public health by learning from past experiences, innovating for the future, and developing sustainable strategies. It brings together public health professionals, policymakers, researchers, and thought leaders from Bahrain, the GCC, and around the globe. It will be a platform to address critical issues, formulate transformative solutions, and build robust global partnerships.

We will explore diverse topics including communicable and non-communicable diseases, genomic and precision medicine, global health security, environmental health, emerging technologies, and equitable, sustainable healthcare systems.

Our goal extends beyond knowledge exchange—we aim to empower all stakeholders to take meaningful action and create significant impacts at national and international levels.

Complementing the scientific program, the Exhibition will showcase innovative advancements in the healthcare industry, offering a unique environment for sponsors, exhibitors, and health leaders to engage and form strategic partnerships.

I warmly invite you to participate in this important event. Let us grab this opportunity to connect, learn, and collaborate towards a healthier future.

Sincerely,

HE Dr. Samya Ali Bahram
Conference President

Assistant Undersecretary for Public Health, Ministry of Health
